MARQUARD AGAIN DEFEATS RED SOX

This start last trench, the New York Nationals ed the New York fans to cheering, and repulsed the onrushing Boston Ameritades to develope and the din became deafening when Herzo cans today and sent them back to deducted down the left field foul line the victories today. On the reen turf just back of first base, while the 30,000 spectators were leaving the grounds, Managers Stahl and McGraw tossed a coin to determine in which city the deciding game should be flayed in the event New York won to-morrow in Boston. Stahl won the toss and the remaining games will be played on Boston's field.

President Taft on the yacht Mayflower kept in touch with the game by wireless while reviewing the battle-ship fleet in the Hudson river. The linning scores were also wigwagged from ship ship all along the line, so that every man jack of those aboard could know the progress of the gam. All the action of today's game came early, and when the smoke of battle floated away at the end of the second inning the score stood 5 to 2 in favor of the Glants, and thereafter neither side could add a tally in the face of the superb twirling of the two left handers, Rube Marquard and Ray Collins.

The Boston southness had been cally.

The Boston southpaw had been called to the firing line after the Giants had touched off an explosion of hits from Buck O'Brien's moist ball. The fusilade came with such suddenness that for the first time in the series the Boston infield were unable to meet the attack of the New Yorkers.

Two crisp doubles, four singles, balk by O'Brien and a double steal netted New York five runs. Oddly enough the four singles garnered by the Giants were vlow infield rollers which on the soggy diamond made them difficult to handle.

Around the necks of the Boston batters. One of the results of 'Marquard's service wis a great day for the Giant outfielders. The trio of gardeners—Murray, Snodgrass and Devore—covered acres of ground and gobbled up no less than 15 balls. Of these Rei Murray captured seven, Snodgrass took six and Devore two.

The Bostons fought gamely to overcome the lead of five runs which the Giant piled up in the first inning. The Red Sox made two tallies in the second, but their attack was broken in third with a brilliant catch by Snodgrass. This play was the turning point in Boston's offense. Stahl had made first on a hit when Wagner drove a screening liner to deer center. Snodgrass turned and ran toward the fence. The drive looked good for a home run and Stahl was rounding second, with Wagner turning first, when Snodgrass caucht fine Ball as 1. That ended Boston, and with the exception of the eighth Marquard sent the Red Sox back to the bench in one, two, three order in every lunding.

New York won the game right at the jump off. Devore hit a grounder to Gardner and was out at first. Doyle rolled a slow bounder to Yerkes, who could not field it in time to head off. Doyle, and the New York runner was asfe. Doyle promptly stole second and Snodgrass struck out. Murray scratched a bit to the infield, beating Wagner's throw to first, and Doyle moved to third on the hit. O'Brien, who had been watching the runners closely, here made a miscue that unbelanced the team for the inning and finally resulted in five runs pouring over the plate. Stepping toward first as if to make a throw, he made a paloable balk in not tossing the ball to Stahl, and when Captain Doyle appealed Umpire Klem waved Murray to second and brought Doyle home with the first run of the game. repulsed the ourushing Boston Americans today and sent them back to defeat by a score of 5 to 2 in the sixth game of the world's series. A victory for the Red Sox would have carried with it the title of world's champions of 1912, and when Rube Marquard walked off the Polo grounds this afternoon with his second win over Boston tucked away in the sleeve of his pitching arm New York took hope that the Glants might be able to capture two more games from their adversaries and bring the premier title in baseball to this city.

The world's series now stands: Boston, three games won, New York, two games won, and one contest tied.

New York, however, did not win all the victories today. On the recenturf just back of first base, while the 30,-800 spectators were leaving the victories today. Red Sox Scored Twice. The five runs looked large to the The five runs looked large to the Red Sox, but they came up cheerfully in the second inning, and when they got through the score did not look so bad. Gardner opened up by chopping a grounder at Marquard, who juggled the ball long enough to permit the Red Sox third baseman to beat his throw to first. Stahl sent a solid single to center, advancing Gardner to second. Wagner struck out and Cady sent up a fly that fell into the big glove of Meyers. Engle, the utility infielder and pinch litter, was sent in to bat for O'Brien, and he brought joy to the Red Sox rooters by lacing a two bat for O'Brien, and he brought joy to the Red Sox rooters by lacing a two bagger to left field. Gardner easily scored on the drive and Stahl also crossed the plate when Devore made two or three stabs to pick up the ball, he being charged with an error. This ended all the storing for the day. Hooper fouled out to Meyers.
Ray Collins, the left-hander, went in to pitch for Boston in the second half.

Collins twirled a fine game and n the seven innings that the Giants faced him not a run was scored.

"Things might have been a little different had Collins been sent in from the first," remarked Manager Stah But it was a dark day, the kind that is just suited to O'Brien's fast ball. But O'Brien didn't get the breaks and we will have to try to end the series tomorrow."

"We have made the start and we expect to finish up," said Mr. McGraw tonight, before leaving for Boston. "By winning tomorrow's game we can put Boston on the defensive and that done, we will enter the last game with the advantage with New York."

While no announcement of battery selections for Tuesday's game were made tonight before the clubs left the city, it was generally believed that Wood will twirt for Boston while Mathewson with a two days' rest would be found on the mound for New York.

MARKET MORE ACTIVE. Partial Recovery in Afternoon from Declines of Friday.

New York, Oct. 14.—So much had happened on the European stock exchanges since our market closed on Friday for the double holiday, and prices even of our stocks had fallen so sharply during Saturday's London trading, that the opening of today's New York market was bound of itself to be interesting. London had carried American shares 1 to 3 points below to be interesting. London had carried American shares 1 to 3 points below our closings of last Friday. Naturally, this morning's first prices here reflected that decline; but none of them was down to London's low level of Saturday. Most of them, after early irregularity on extremely large transactions, regained a part of their initial loss. In the closing hour, especially after London had closed business for the day, the New York market became much more inactive. It ended quietly, awaiting, no doubt, the leadership of London on the overnight war or diplomatte news.

but closed with Chemanat. This particular trade involved the transfer of Miller Huggins and George Ellis to Redland for Mike Mitchell and Charley McDonald. When Mrs. Britton vetoed the swap, Manager Bresnahan promptly announced his intention of making no more deals. Now the faus are wondering whether the St. Louis club will suffer by Roger's threatened inactivity in the trading market.

Bresnahan's record of a trader since his ascension to the managerial throne at Robison field would tend to prove that he is capable of looking after the interests of any club in this department. There's just one deal in the books, put there by Bresnahan, that does not now stand out as an advantageous move for the Cards. That's practically one of the first made by the Cardinal manager. But there was an angle to this trade when it was made that many of the fans didn't see properly at the time. Byrne was not as good while in St. Louis as he later proved himself in Pittsburg. It was an old case of a change of scenery making a much improved player of the making a much improved player of the man involved.
